ERRATUM

Plaintiff United States House of Representatives respectfully files this Erratum to correct for the record the inadvertent omission of an ellipsis from a quotation taken from Raines v. Byrd, 521 U.S. 811, 823 (1997), which quotation appears in the Opposition of the [House] to Defendants’ Motion to Dismiss the Complaint (Feb. 27, 2015) (ECF No. 22) (“Opposition”).

The quotation appears on page 27 of the House’s Opposition as follows:

- As the Court explained later, “Coleman stands for the proposition that legislators whose votes would have been sufficient to defeat (or enact) a specific legislative Act have standing to sue if that legislative action goes into effect (or does not go into effect), on the ground that their votes have been completely nullified.” Raines, 521 U.S. at 823.

The quotation should have appeared on page 27 of the House’s Opposition as follows:

- As the Court explained later, “Coleman stands . . . for the proposition that legislators whose votes would have been sufficient to defeat (or enact) a specific legislative Act have standing to sue if that legislative action goes into effect (or does not go into effect), on the ground that their votes have been completely nullified.” Raines, 521 U.S. at 823.

As noted, the omission of the ellipsis was inadvertent; it also is regretted.

The omission of the ellipsis, however, is not material because (i) it did not alter the meaning of the quoted passage or the holding of Raines, and (ii) inclusion of the ellipsis does not undermine the House's standing to challenge defendants' expenditure of public funds in a case, like this one, where there is no congressional appropriation of funds for such expenditure. See Opp'n at 32 & n.19 (discussing omitted Raines language).

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Jonathan Turley
